Don't just give Grandma a book.
Give her an interview.

Grandma was an entire person before she was Grandma. She had crushes, broke rules, quit jobs, started over and kept a few secrets.

Unlike memory journals that leave her to fill in the pages alone, this book is something you do together. You ask the questions, she tells the stories, and you write them down.

100+ questions designed to get her talking, from sneaking out and first heartbreaks to family feuds and the decisions she's proudest of.

- Large print, one question per page
- Plenty of room to write her answers
- Optional follow-ups that get the good stuff
- Perfect for grandkids, kids and the whole family

Her stories. Your questions.
One book you create together.
