Don't just give Grandpa a book.
Give him an interview.

Grandpa was an entire person before he was Grandpa. He had a first car, broke rules, quit jobs, built things, started over and kept a few secrets.

Unlike memory journals that leave him to fill in the pages alone, this book is something you do together. You ask the questions, he tells the stories, and you write them down.

100+ questions designed to get him talking, from sneaking out and dumb dares to the coolest thing he ever built and the hardest thing he ever had to do.

- Large print, one question per page
- Plenty of room to write his answers
- Optional follow-ups that get the good stuff
- Perfect for grandkids, kids and the whole family

His stories. Your questions.
One book you create together.
