Every page has a drawing that someone started.
What it becomes is up to you.

A staircase. A door left open. An empty fridge. A pair of eyes peeking out of a bush. Each of the 100 pencil drawings in this book is only the beginning. Where does the road lead? What is waiting at the top of the stairs? You decide.

No instructions. No rules. No right answers.
No need to be good at drawing.

Give a hundred people the same page and you get a hundred different drawings. This one is yours.

Draw Your Own Conclusions

ZENA PLECH

Draw Your Own Conclusions

100 Unfinished Drawings.
Endless Possibilities.

ZENA PLECH